Statement Regarding Share Price Movement

Proton Motor Power Systems plc (AIM: PPS), the designer, developer and producer of fuel cells and fuel cell electric hybrid systems with a zero-carbon footprint, notes the recent rise in the Company's share price and confirms that it is not aware of any material reason for the significant increase.

On 16 April 2020, the Company updated the market on the impact of COVID-19 on its operations and order intake in the first quarter of 2020; that its factory in Puchheim remains fully open and production capacity has been unaffected, and that after a record order intake in the first quarter of 2020 amounting to around EUR 6.4 million, Proton remains on track to fulfill all deliveries to customers in the current production pipeline resulting from Q1 and previous order intake.

The Company expects to announce its final results for the year ended 31 December 2020 during the week commencing 22 June 2020.
